UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

DR. THOMAS J. GAJEWSKI

Dr. Thomas J. Gajewski is the Chief, Information Technology at the Air Force Negotiation Center (AFNC) and serves the Department of the Air Force as an Instructional Systems Specialist for the Air University, Air War College at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. In this position, he is charged with department educational technology implementation as well as curriculum development, research, and instruction in the areas of mediation, negotiation and conflict resolution. His research and experiences in the field of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) enhances the mission and exemplary services provided by AFNC to Department of Defense personnel around the world.

Dr. Gajewski is recognized as an academic and research expert in the field of ADR with his contribution entitled, "Exploring leadership styles from a mediator's perspective: A phenomenological study examining four specific organizational leadership styles and their relationship to four mediation styles as summarized by Leonard I. Riskin." Additionally, Dr. Gajewski's academic degrees includes an Engineering degree in Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst as well as a minor in German, and several higher educational degrees from Pepperdine University: Masters in International Business from the Graziadio School of Business, Masters in Dispute Resolution from Straus Institute and a Doctorate in Education from the School of Education and Psychology.

His experiences include substantial work in the private, education, government and military sectors. At General Electric Company (GE), Dr. Gajewski held assignments in international marketing and manufacturing in the military aircraft engine and locomotive divisions. He then transitioned to academics where he was the Program Chair for the School of Business at Westwood College Los Angeles Campus with responsibilities including curriculum development and administrator/supervisor responsibility for undergraduate and graduate level business management programs. Dr. Gajewski then volunteered for a 27-month assignment with the Peace Corps and was stationed in the town of Guanajuato in the state of Guanajuato, México. His assignment there was with CIMAT - Centro de Investigación en Matemáticas A.C. with duties encompassing International Business Advising and Cross-Cultural Organizational Strengthening Specialist as well as supporting several established charities and non-government organizations in the local area as a representative of the US Government. Upon completion of his Peace Corps assignment, Dr. Gajewski accepted his next position with the Department of the Air Force in 2018 and was stationed at Naval Base Ventura County Port Hueneme, CA serving as a Supervisory Training Instructor for the Air Education and Training Command at the 344th Training Squadron, Detachment 1.

In his free time, Dr. Gajewski serves as a volunteer in several non-profit organizations – member and Treasurer (2019 to 2022) for the Santa Barbara Peace Corps Association 501(c)3 and Friends of Mexico, an affiliate of the National Peace Corps Association, as a Board of Directors member and as Treasurer (2023 to present). These organizations serve as a network and resource for prospective, current, former, and future Peace Corps Volunteers across the United States and Mexico.
